AGUA DE MAGNOLIA.—The prettiest thing, the "sweetest thing," and the most of it for the least money. It ever comes the odor of perspiration; softens and adds delicacy to the skin; is a delightful perfume; allays headache and inflammation, and is a necessary companion in the sick-room, in the nursery, and upon the toilet sideboard. It can be obtained everywhere at one dollar per bottle.

S. T.—1860.—X.—The amount of Plantation Bitters sold in one year is something startling. They would fill Broadway six feet high, from the Park to 4th street.—Drake's manufactory is one of the institutions of N. York. It is said that Drake painted all the rocks in the eastern States with his cabalistic "S. T.—1860.—X," and then got the old granny legislators to pass a law "preventing disfiguring the face of nature," which gives him a monopoly We do not know how this is, but we do know the Plantation Bitters sell as no other article ever did. They are used by all classes of the community, and are death on Dyspepsia—certain. They are very invigorating when languid and weak, and a great appetizer.

"In lifting the kettle from the fire I scalded myself very severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. * * * The Mexican Mustang Liniment relieved the pain almost immediately. It heals rapidly, and left very little scar.

All who value a beautiful head of hair, and its preservation from premature baldness and turning gray, will not fail to use Lyon's celebrated Kathairon. It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy, eradicates dandruff, and causes the hair to grow with luxuriant beauty. It is sold everywhere. E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

WHAT DID IT?—A young lady, returning to her country home after a sojourn of a few months in New York, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a rustic, flushed face, she had a soft, ruby complexion, of almost marble smoothness; and instead of 22, she really appeared but 17. She told them plainly she used Hagan's Magnolia Balm, and would not be without it. Any lady can improve her personal appearance very much by using this article. It can be ordered of any Druggist for only 50 cents.

Heimstreet's Inimitable Hair Coloring has been steadily growing in favor for over twenty years. It acts upon the absorbents at the roots of the hair, and changes it to its original color by degrees. All instantaneous dyes deaden and injure the hair. Heimstreet's is not a dye, but is certain in its results, promotes its growth, and is a beautiful Hair Dressing. Price 50 cents and $1,00. Sold by all dealers.

A MERRY HEART.

'Tis well to have a merry heart,
However short we stay;
There's wisdom in a merry heart,
Whate'er the world may say,
Philosophy may lift its head,
And find out many a flaw,
But give me the philosophy
That's happy with a straw.

If life brings us but happiness—
It brings us, we are told,
What's hard to buy, though rich ones try,
With all their heaps of gold.
Then laugh away—let others say
Whate'er they will of mirth;
Who laughs the most may truly say
He has the wealth of earth,

There's beauty in a merry laugh,
A moral beauty, too—
It shows the heart an honest heart,
That's paid each man his due,
And lent a share of what's to spare,
Despite of wisdom's leers,
And made the cheekless sorrow speak,
The eye weep fewer tears.

The eye may shroud itself in cloud,
The tempest wrath begin;
It finds a spark to cheer the dark,
Its sunlight is within.
Then laugh away, let others say
Whate'er they will of mirth;
Who laughs the most may truly boast,
He has the wealth of earth.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH FARM AUCTION.

A correspondent of the Rochester Democrat, writing from Reading, Pa., gives an incident of life among the Pennsylvania Dutchmen. He says:

"At this season of the year the 'sales' or farm auctions are to the country life what hops and the 'German' are to the city fashionables. The buyers although a sufficiently numerous class, are but a small minority of the rollicking throng who attend on these interesting occasions. Many parties come ten and twelve miles across country simply to participate in the enjoyment of the occasion. Troops of hucksters itinerate, with their booths, exposing their wares at from five to seven sales in a week. The whole company is dined at the expense of the farmer, frequently crowding the tables for three and four successive hours.

Yesterday I attended one of these sales. Before 10 o'clock the citizens began to flock in and continued to arrive in all sorts of vehicles and in mounted parties until well into the afternoon. The hucksters' tables were already spread in the great barn yard, and furnaces for the oyster stews were smoking in dangerous proximity to the heaps of straw and litter. The display of gingerbread and candies was worthy of a town fair or general muster. There were eleven different stands spread with edibles; oranges, figs, popcorn, peanuts and peanut tack. Sticks of gingerbread and wintergreen candy were crowded in alternate lines across the boards, and sundry decanters, surrounded by suspiciously small glasses, contained something of a finer nature than the small kegs with wooden spigots, that peeped from under the tables. The popular inclination was toward the kegs rather than the bottles, and evinced a commendable preference for cakes and ale.

At half past ten the crowd commenced dining, and the housewives were busy bearing the substantial cheer from the great oven and outhouses to the table within doors until past noon.

Now that we are so well fed, let us repair with the crowd to the farm yard and complete our desert among the hucksters.

There was a liberal attendance of the gentler sex, of which we counted no less than eighty-five representatives, in view at one time. From the littlest girl to the sharp-featured 'frow' of fifty, all womankind was intent upon getting as many treats as possible at the expense of the men. There were, indeed, a few exceptions, in the cases of prim dames, and young ladies with waterfalls, and possibly city cousins, to this universal prosecution of the time-out-of-mind custom of begging a treat. No fortune-teller or toy-vending belle at a charity bazaar could surpass in zeal and pertinacity these sister golden blood-suckers. Each individual carried her handkerchief twisted into a receiving pouch and prosecuted the popular game with greater or less success. Children and half-grown girls demanded 'ein,' 'swi,' or 'finfa,' or a share of whatever you might be eating, from acquaintance or stranger alike. The older girls, the young ladies, the Katarina Van Tassels of the village, are a little circumspect in their method of attack, flying in circle and poising upon the wing like a cautious bee, before pouncing down upon a stranger flower. Too delicate to dash headlong at the unknown, they plucked you gently by the sleeve, and anxiously demanded, 'Didn't I see you at the depot last night?' or 'Don't you know my sister? She works to Frits's; she I seen you talkin with, 'long side o'them girls down by the fodder loft,' or 'Ain't you the feller that clum the scantlin' over to the raisin' t'other day?' It makes little difference whether you are the 'feller' or not, as there is less misapprehension on the young lady's part than you may imagine, and she will soon have you before the buckster's table, and indebted for as many sticks of winter-green candy as she can clasp in her capacious hand. These she deposits in her handkerchief, and, like the bee, is on again in search of another sprig of buckwheat, and you are remarkably fortunate if a second girl, who fancies she has seen your lost dog, or that you winked at her neighbor's girl the Sunday before last, in the gallery, is not ready to take you up as soon as you are dropped by the first.

The auction has already commenced, and the crowd surging after the auctioneer, who is the Grand Mogul of the day and the especial envy of all the young men, who come in dashing turnouts and holiday clothes. In vain do they appear behind spans, whose well-groomed coats are curled with sweat, and breast spattered with mud, shouting like stage drivers as they whirl into the yard; the auctioneer is the pet of all eyes, and with his clerk gets the ovation of the crowd and the tit-bits at dinner. Scarcely an English word does he use, but the Dutch numerals are familar enough, and the articles are before your very eyes There is a plow, with a point like a crow-bar, and no share but the mould-board. Next comes a wagon with box scooping from stem to blow like the ships of Columbus, and iron-handled brake at the rear, a tool-box at the side and two pair of whiffle trees laid across the chain which stretches out from pole to pole. After the wagon comes a set of harness, complete outfit for the six horses which will presently be led out from the underground stables. The breeching and cross straps upon the hips are as wide as your two thumbs, and the saddle and jerk reins for the near wheeler are thrown in with the lot. A combined mower and reaper of modern pattern shows oddly among triangular harrows, straight-helved axes and three beamed cultivators. When the bidders are sufficiently wrought up, the scene shifts to the middle threshing-floor, and the interest centres on a machine, consisting of a cylinder and straw carrier, attached by its tumbling rod to a power out of doors, which radiates with five one-horse sweeps. The cattle, horses and colts would evidently belong like the implements, to a former generation, were they fashioned by human builders. Influenced as they are by breeding, the cattle are extremely small and mean-shaped, while the horses are large and finely developed for draft purposes. A single farmer seldom keeps more than a dozen sheep, and those of the coarse wooled Leicestershire breed.

Late in the day, the boys were still wrestling on the straw stack; the hucksters were doing a thriving trade in the oyster stew line, and preparations were making at the house for a general supper.

Yesterday I attended one of these sales. Before 10 o'clock the citizens began to flock in and continued to arrive in all sorts of vehicles and in mounted parties until well into the afternoon. The hucksters' tables were already spread in the great barn yard, and furnaces for the oyster stews were smoking in dangerous proximity to the heaps of straw and litter. To the Boys.

"Why don't you say something to the boys?"

That was the question we were asked the other day. And we balanced our pen on the top story of the pen rack and thought the matter over.

We don't mind confessing that we are rather partial than otherwise to boys. We like em, that is, when they have fairly outgrown the cat-persecuting, sugar stealing, orchard robbing, and generally diabolical stage peculiar to the species. A frank, straightforward, honest young man, who looks you pleasantly in the eye as to say what he has got to say as though he meant it, is—well he's almost equal to a frank, straight-forward young woman, and that, according to our idea, is saying a good deal.

To begin with, why don't you talk a little more truth and reason and a little less nonsense to the girls? "You do talk sense." That's altogether a mistake. You remember what the chief topics of conversation were last evening. How do you suppose it would read phonographed by an experienced reporter? Wouldn't it bring the color to your cheeks, and make you feel a little ashamed of yourself? "The girls like it." Now do you think that is an honest conclusion to come to? Have you ever given them a fair chance? Did you ever try the experiment of rational conversation? The girls cannot very well help themselves if you go off on the creamy tide of flattery and trifling. They will have to follow, too. Did you ever notice the change that comes over the spirit of the dream when half a dozen gentlemen, talking politics, literature or every day events, are invaded by the apparition of a young lady in their midst? It they are hatching high treason, or plotting a bank burglary, they couldn't sheer away from the subject under discussion with more instantaneous speed, taking refuge in the shallow platitudes of weather, fashion and hollow commonplace. Very complimentary to women in general, isn't it.

Boys don't fall into this egregious error! Talk to a girl as though she had the ordinary allowance of brains, and take our word for it, she will find some way of expressing her gratitude.

We should like to say something about that cigar, and that package of tin foil in your pockets, and those occasional glasses of wine or—something stronger—that you believe in, as a part of your manly privileges! But perhaps it isn't worth while. You don't, as a general thing, do the girls justice Because you are poor and obscure, you fancy they will not listen to your suit. Nonsense! You may be as awkward as Caliban, as plain as Cromwell, as poor as John in his most poverty stricken days, but if they fix their little fancies on your five or six feet of humanity, they will have you and love you, and cherish you as tenderly as if you were a royal prince with all the graces of a Chevalier Bayard. It's a way women have! It is you they like, not money, or rank, or exterior charm; though strange as it may seem! If you are a boy worth anything at all, there is a demure little girl somewhere who is just silly enough to believe in you most implicitly, and that little girl will be the ally you can have in fighting the battle of a livelihood!

Suppose you think over this subject well and seriously before you decide finally and irrevocably to live and die an old bachelor!

Moreover, don't allow yourself to be discouraged because you are not what the world calls a "ladies man," because you can dance gracefully, or hold a fan skillfully or whisper pretty complimentary nothing as readily as somebody else. You will find that nobody wants a "ladies man," for a companion through life, agreeable as he may be in a ball room or promenade.

Don't blush when you are caught in a rusty coat, or an old fashioned hat, going sensibly about your business; don't fancy that your character will stand any higher for wearing expensive kid gloves every day, or hiring somebody to do for you what you can a great deal better do for yourself. Don't be foolishly extravagant for fear some brainless fool will think you are "mean." Just ask yourself what is best and right, and then go ahead and do it, no matter what people say or think. And if you have been unfortunate enough to do a foolish thing don't shrink away from the consequences, but stand up and meet them like a man. Oh, boys, how many of the evils of this world are brought on by a little lack of moral courage.

Have we gossipped long enough? Perhaps we have; perhaps there will be no room for sly hints we were about to whisper regarding the letters you write to your particular female friends and the long evening you dream away careless and purposeless, and the dollars you throw away when dimes would be all sufficient, and tight boots you wear, in defiance of coming corns, and the indigestible restaurant dinners you devour, as if there were no retributive dyspepsia impending, and the numbers of pairs of kid gloves you wear per annum, and forty other things which are none of our business. Do not suppose, however, that we are not actively interested in all these matters just because we happen to be a woman.

OUR TURN MUST COME.—"Generation after generation," says a fine writer, "have felt as we now feel, and their lives were as active as our own. They passed a vapor while nature wore the same aspect of beauty as when her creator commanded her to be. The world will have the same attractions for our offsprings yet unborn that she had once for us children. Yet a little while and all will have happened. The throbbing heart will be stilled, and we shall be at rest. Our funeral will find its way, and prayers will be said, and we shall be left alone in silence for the worms. And it may be for a short time we shall be spoken of, but the things of life will creep in, and our names will soon be forgotten. Days will continue to move on, and laughter will be heard in the room in which we died; and the eyes that mourned for us will be dried and glisten again with joy, and even our children will cease to think of us, and will not remember to lisp our names."

☞During the late war there was established a military hospital at J——, and the citizens of the place were very generous and active in sending delicacies to the soldiers under treatment there. In order to send those things most needed, and in the proper proportion, meetings were held from time to time, and it was there decided what each would do. Among the assembly at such a gathering was an old lady rather deaf; and as one and another were asked to send this or that to the hospital during the coming week, a young man of the "committee" asked the old lady in a voice suited to her circumstances, if she could not "give a little milk to the sick soldiers?" "Oh! la me no! I hain't gi'n milk for over thirty years!" Certainly the old lady thought that more was expected of her than the "committee" had any idea of asking.

☞"How much do you charge Massa Magistrate, to marry me and Miss Dinah?

"Why Clem, I'll marry you for two dollars."

"Two dollars! What you charge to white folks, Massa?"

"We generally charge them five dollars, Clem."

"Well, you marry us like white folks, and I'll give you five dollars too."

"Why, Clem, that's a curious notion; but as you desire it, I will marry you like the white folks for five dollars."

The ceremony being over, Clem and Dinah being one, the magistrate asked for his fee.

"Oh no, Massa, you no come up to de greement—you no kiss the bride."

"Get out of my office, you rascal!"

☞Chatting with one of her neighbors not long since she related her experience when converted, many years ago as follows:

"I used to be very gay, and fond of the world and all its fashions, till the Lord showed me my folly. I liked silks and ribbons and laces and feathers, but I found they were dragging me down to hell—so I gave them all to my sister!"

☞"Why don't you get married?" said a young lady the other day to a bachelor friend. "I have been trying for the last ten years to find some one who would be silly enough to have me," was the reply. "I guess you haven't been up our way," was the insinuating rejoinder.

Temperance Topics.

Temperance and Health.

Temperance is a condition of health. This is a law of the human structure which can never be violated with impunity, and which is obeyed with a priceless reward. By temperance is meant, moderation in eating and in the gratification of every appetite and every demand of nature, but especially abstinence from drinks containing alcohol.

Intemperance and drunkenness or gluttony, the victims are numbered by thousands, and this species of inebriation is perhaps more common than that resulting from the use of alcohol. In every town and city the food-inebriates continue to eat and to die. By over-eating, and by indulging the appetite between meals and late at night, they have exhausted not only the powers of the stomach but also of the brain. Unless saved by a rigid course of abstinence, exercise and regularity of habit, they drag out a few wretched years and die before their time. Health being lost, there follows as a consequence a train of losses, viz: loss of business capacity, loss of fortune, loss of friends and influence, ending in loss of life and, no doubt, frequently of soul. To excesses in eating or to debauches may be traced not only the rupture of many valuable friendships, business partnerships and business relations, but also the rupture of the higher and holier ties of the family.

The condition of the mind is as the condition of the body. A sour and disordered stomach makes a sour and disordered mind. Hence there have resulted from debauches, whether from eating or drinking, troops of evils, such as estrangements, divorces, quarrels, slanders, ruined reputations, and even murders. We could name young men who, by excesses in eating, and in what are thought to be legitimate amusements, and by moderate drinking only, have brought on such a state of health as to apparently change their natures, and to lose as a consequence, friends, fortune, and reputation.

But the most insidious, dangerous, and ruinous form of intemperance is undoubtedly that of indulgence in drinks containing alcohol. Alcohol can not be taken without injury, and even the lighter excesses, persisted in, will ruin health. As in eating, little excesses in drinking gradually undermine the health, and in a few years the man who was so ambitious and vigorous is a broken-down man and a failure. The hopes and expectations of his friends are disappointed, and he can recover the lost power and health only by years of abstinence and careful attention. It is true there are many who drink without apparently being injured. But even those who maintain a robust appearance and considerable power are far from enjoying sound health. They have shocked and injured brains, and have not attained by far the character and the success which might have been secured. Men of vigorous constitutions may drink moderately for years without great injury, for they have great power of resistance, but woe to those in whom the nervous predominates over the digestive and muscular systems. A drop of intoxicating liquor is a positive injury to such, and constant indulgence is ruin.

Temperance in all things is the only condition of perfect health. And there are many men who practice this temperance and enjoy this health. They eat at regular hours, seldom or never eat between meals, never over-eat, never take alcohol, rarely indulge in tea or coffee. They eat wholesome food and drink the great preserver and restorer of health, cold water, and they are strong and happy men. They have what some one calls sweet stomachs and sweet hearts. They have fresh and healthy blood, fresh and healthy feelings, fresh and healthy minds. They are the men who love their fellow-men and their God. To them Nature is a perpetual wonder and glory, every morning is a baptism of beauty, and every gift of God is a sacrament.

It is possible by temperance and by obedience to the laws of nature for man to be happy. Nine-tenths of the misery of human kind is due to violating the law of temperance, and temperance, and is another name for the millenium.—Temperance Age.

THE ORIGIN OF THE TERM "TETOTALAR."—Rev. Joel Jewel, the second G. W. C. T. of the Pennsylvania Grand Lodge, writing from Wells, Bradford county, to the Monthly Circular, tells how cider became interdicted by temperance societies, and gives the origin of the term "tetotaler:"

"The Temperance Society of Hector, N. Y.—now the oldest in the United States—was organized April 1818, forty-nine years ago, on the principle of abstinence from distilled liquors. It was soon urged to join, which I did on the condition that wine be also prohibited. Bob Armstrong, a notorious sot, reformed, united, and became intoxicated on ale, at Brother Warner's raising. He confessed, and pledged himself to abstain from strong beer. Our Society, to hold him up, did the same. Soon Brother Thalimer, having a building to move, sent Brother A. reeling home on ADJOURNMENT.—The Pennsylvania Legislature has passed a resolution to adjourn finally on the 11th of April.

VETO.—Read Governor Geary's veto of the bill to confer unlimited powers on the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

CAN'T MIX.—The Washington Star complains that the white voters of the city do not register their names under the recent act of Congress, which allows negroes to vote. The Star thinks it is a sly way of showing resentment to the action of Congress.

☞The Pittsburgh Commercial says that "as soon as the President either signs or rejects the supplemental reconstruction bill Congress will adjourn till next fall. It is weary, and so is the country". Yes of the doings of Congress.

☞Gov. Geary has signed the act requiring railroad and railway companies to carry all passengers, without distinction of color. This bill, although more pertinent to Philadelphia, where city cars are run, is also applicable to other railroads of the Commonwealth. We will publish the bill when received.

☞Edward H. Ropes, United States Consul, in a letter to Secretary Seward, records the death of Dr. David Livingston, the African explorer. While making another exploration, he and his party were attacked in a bush country by a band of Mavite. Dr. L. killed the most forward of the attacking party, but was surrounded and cut down by one blow of a battle-axe, which cut half through his neck. Almost all those who stood by Dr. L. were killed, although they did considerable with their rifles. This happened about October 25th. Thus ended the life of one who had done much in developing the resources of the region of Africa, and given much valuable information regarding the portions which he was the first to explore.

THE KANSAS LIQUOR LAW.—The Legislature of Kansas has passed a liquor law, allowing any person to make application for license who can procure the signatures of a majority of the inhabitants of the city, borough or township in which he resides, male and female, over the age of twenty-one. We do not know how this law will do in Kansas, but if such a law was put in force in this State, we think it would be very difficult to procure majorities of the signers, as the females are bitterly opposed to liquor sellers, and who has a better right to be opposed to them? They are the ones who are compelled to suffer most from the abuse of the liquor law, and they should certainly have a voice in saying whether liquor should be sold and who should sell it.

PROGRESS.—Mr. Mann, a member of the Legislature of this State, from Potter county, offered the following amendment to the supplemental charter of the Academy of Music, pending in the House of Representatives:

That all churches, public assemblies, theatres, and opera houses, shall be open to all classes, without distinction of color, and every officer or employee interfering with any person, without distinction of color, from occupying any seat in such church, theatre, or opera house, such person or persons so offending, upon conviction thereof, shall undergo an imprisonment in the county prison of not less than six months, nor more than two years, and the corporation whose agent or employee hath so offended shall pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, at the discretion of the court.

March 23.—Mr. Wilson, of Massachusetts, introduced the following, which was ordered to be printed:—"A Bill to Regulate the Executive Franchise in the United States."

Whereas, The fourteenth article of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been ratified by a sufficient number of States, and is therefore a part of the fundamental law; and whereas, the first section of said article of amendment declares that all persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the States wherein they reside, and that no State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; and

Whereas, the said fourteenth article of amendment to the Constitution empowers Congress to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of the said articles,

Therefore, be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that there shall be no detail of the elective franchise to any male citizen of the United States by any State on account of color or race, or previous condition, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

Section 2. And be it further enacted, that every person who shall violate the provisions of this act shall, on conviction in any court of the United States, be fined for each and every offense not less than $100, or imprisoned not less than six months, or both, at the discretion of the court.

The Bill to Confer Unlimited Powers on the Penna. Railroad Company.

VETO OF GOVERNOR GEARY.

The Bill Passed Over the Veto in the Senate.

HARRISBURG, March 20.—The most important feature of to-day's proceedings was the following veto message from the Governor. It has created more talk here than any thing of the kind this winter:

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO.

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, March 20, '67.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN:—The act entitled "an act to repeal an act entitled a further supplement to the act incorporating the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, authorizing an increase of capital stock, and to borrow money, approved the twenty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, to authorize the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to increase the capital stock, to issue bonds and to secure the same by mortgages," has received that careful consideration from me, which the importance of the subject seemed to demand, and notwithstanding the high respect I entertain for the two branches of the Legislature, and the extreme reluctance I have at any time to differ with them, I am induced by my convictions of duty to dissent from the propriety of the provisions of the bill, and to return it with my objection to the Senate in which it originated. Lest my opinions should be misconceived and misrepresented, I deem it due to myself to make a brief exposition of some of the enactments of the Legislature for the benefit of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company since the original act for its incorporation, approved April 13, 1846, so far as it relates to its capital stock.

Growth of its Capital Stock.

By the first section of the act of incorporation, the capital stock was fixed at seven millions five hundred thousand dollars. By the act approved April 23d, 1852, the capital stock was increased to thirteen million dollars; May 6th, 1852, to fourteen million dollars; March 23d, 1853, to eighteen million dollars; May 2d, 1855, to twenty million dollars, and March 2d, 1866, to thirty million dollars.

The Governor's Sense of Duty.

With no other objects in my heart than to be serviceable to my country, to preserve and transmit unsullied the great principles and true policy of our Government, and honorably to perform the trusts, duties, obligations and responsibilities committed to my charge, I proceed in the performance of these objects as I understand them. I am sincerely friendly to all the railroads and other companies that have aided in the development of the wealth and resources of the State, and while I cheerfully accord the same sentiment to your honorable bodies, I can but regret that there should be any difference of opinion between us on the proposed enactment. And if in stating the objections I shall use expressions which may be regarded as too strong, my apology will, I trust, be found in the importance of the subject. I will state them frankly and with as much brevity as possible.

His Reasons.

Waiving objections to the first section of the bill under consideration, and waiving also an inquiry as to the legal rights to thus authorize the change of the fundamental law of a corporation, and bind the stockholders, I proceed to the consideration of the second, which confers powers of the most extraordinary character upon the directors of the company, "providing further facilities required by the increase of the business upon the road, and its connections, and for such other purposes connected with the business as the board of directors of said company may deem expedient, it shall be lawful for the said board of directors from time to time to issue additional shares of capital stock of said company to such amount as they may determine, and to apportion or dispose of the said shares in such manner and upon such terms as they may think best, and also for other or all of the said purposes to issue from time to time bonds of the said company, payable at such time as they may appoint."

One of the objects of this bill is for its further increase of the capital stock to retire its present indebtedness, which, according to the president and directors' last annual report to the company, is upwards of twenty-six millions dollars. Thus, in this way, alone increasing the stock over one hundred and thirty per cent., and making it amount to over forty-six millions dollars.

But this is not all. It further intends to increase the business facilities upon its road and connections, and for such other purposes connected with its business as the directors may deem expedient. Were this bill to become a law, to what amount may not the directors extend the capital stock with such unlimited privilege? To what branches of business shall it be confined, and to what may it not extend, and where is the power to keep within its legitimate functions if it should deem it proper to depart from them? Its tremendous power in irresponsible hands would be unlimited, and uncontrolable by any power short of revolution. It has already obtained in the various chartered privileges the preoccupancy of nearly every possible railroad route in Pennsylvania, with the privilege of branches and lateral roads in a large majority of the counties. As shown by official reports, it has besides nearly eleven hundred miles of roads in Pennsylvania, its extensions to Marietta, Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio, and to Chicago, Illinois, and holds large and, in some instances, controlling interests of stock in other railroad companies.

When such extraordinary powers are attempted to be granted for an unlimited period, I consider it contrary to the spirit and intention of our institutions. The present Directors, it may be assumed, are honorable gentlemen, for they assert they have good intentions for the public interest, as well as for those of the Company. But time may effect a change and a new Board that may not recognize their duty to the stockholders and the rights and interests of the people, and, forgetting their patriotism, might be found arrayed against the country when its services were required. It is not an impossible hypothesis, that its capital stock might be extended to one thousand millions of dollars or even to an amount equal to the present national indebtedness. The whole control of the institution and of the issue of its bonds necessarily lie in the hands of a few Directors, and not in those of the stockholders whose real interests should be represented.

The facilities with which any board of directors could perpetuate power in its own hands, might be an inviting temptation to monopolize or engross a sufficient number of shares of stock by purchase and proxies from non-residents given, or perhaps by fraud issued, to control the vote of the stockholders. The same board might, by fair means, thus be perpetuated, or by a dexterous mixing or misrepresenting of accounts, with not much risk or responsibility on their part, might fraudulently control forever the affairs of the company.

In my opinion, the stockholders themselves, who, like the people in our own form of Government, are the true source of power, should closely examine into the responsibilities just presented, if they would preserve and perpetuate their own rights within the corporation. I am not aware of any instance where a company has been destroyed by the immediate action of its stockholders, but where too much power has been placed in the hands of directors and officers of reckless, speculative and adventurous characters, the instances of failures and disgrace are almost innumerable.

In all the bearings which can be taken upon this measure, in the event of the directory of the road passing into the hands of ambitious and unscrupulous men, I can see nothing but an eventual monopolization of all the railroad privileges of this State, and perhaps of the United States, and such other purposes connected with its business as the board of directors of said company may deem expedient. They being their own judges, what might not be considered connected with their business? May not any and almost every branch of industry, manufacturing, agricultural and commercial be included? There is danger, too, that with such vast power, such ramification in the business departments of the country, and such unlimited capital, there might be reason to tremble for the purity and sanctity of our elections, or what is equally as bad, that our Governors, legislators and other State authorities, might be affected with the blandishments of its power, its offices and its wealth. They could make the rich richer, and the poor poorer. They could in a word make their organization a monopoly—a term which a distinguished jurist and law giver defines to be "that which grinds the people between the upper and nether mill-stones," and its power would become so great that should any citizen, or even an officer of the Government, attempt to restrain it within its chartered limits, and proper franchises, he would be made to feel its withering influences. There is always danger in the creation of monopolies, for in proportion as they are increased, are the rights of the citizen abridged.

Had such a proposition been made in the early days of the Commonwealth, or even a quarter of a century ago, or when the company applied for its charter, it would have been rebuked by the people without distinction of party, upon its first annunciation. I am not inimical to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, but I am positively its friend. I honor the management for the energy displayed in the share they have taken, with others, in the development of our State, and am determined that it and all other corporations shall be protected and defended in all their rights, privileges and franchises, already derived or that may hereafter be derived from legislative action. But when they ask for unlimited privileges, which can and may be used as engines to threaten and control the interests and perhaps the very action of the government by absorption of our internal improvements, in every branch of industry within this State, and the holding of many thousands of our people in a dependent condition, they must be refused. It is stated that corporations have had unlimited powers conferred upon them, and no evils have resulted, but as far as such cases have been cited, I find upon examination they were almost without exception conferred upon the stockholders, on terms and limitations and not upon the directors, and if there were such, and they were known to be wrong in principle, it is one of the best and strongest reasons why the practice should be discontinued.

If it is right that the Legislature should confer unlimited powers upon one institution, it has a right to multiply such corporations at its pleasure, and if they should be managed by those whose predilections and interests would be similar, the control of the Commonwealth would be irretrievably committed to their hands, and the sovereignty would depart from the people. If it is deemed necessary for the proper management of the Company that its capital should be increased, let it be done as heretofore requested by them, gradually by the Legislature, just as the necessity for such increase can be clearly demonstrated, and after due notice that it is intended to make application for such increase of capital and then only at the request of the stockholders.

Prior to the late election, I found among the people throughout the State that the important question of railroads, in all its shapes and guises, could not be properly ignored. It was regarded as a matter of such paramount importance that pledges were asked of the Gubernatorial candidates, and certain interrogatories addressed them, to which answers were required. One of the interrogatories addressed to myself was in these words, viz: "Will you, if elected Chief Magistrate of Pennsylvania, faithfully exert the power of your Administration to defeat any and every attempt made by legislation or otherwise, for the monopoly and control by any one corporation of the railroad policy of the State?" To which I, in good faith, replied that while I believed it to be improper to bring the influence of the Executive Department to bear upon the Legislative, in anticipation of its action, I am heartily opposed to the creation of any monopoly of the railroad system of the State, or giving any artificial body created by the law powers which would place place it above and beyond the reach of the Legislature, and in my reply I further stated that "the spirit of monopoly in this and other matters should be discouraged in a republican government, and I have no sympathy with any policy which may be designed for its encouragement." And in speaking of railroad companies, I further remarked: "While these corporations continue to act their part as public servants, they should be carefully protected. They should not be permitted to overstep their legitimate function. As creatures of the law, they should obey and be in every respect subservient to the law."

In accordance with the doctrines thus pronounced, the public have rendered their verdict, and expect of me a strict compliance with the pledges then given. These are not new doctrines of principles. They were fearlessly enunciated in the incipient part of the campaign, and were discussed freely by the people, by the press, and by public speakers throughout the State. I feel that I am solemnly bound to obey these pledges, and I have no desire or intention to endeavor to disobey them. The people may rest satisfied and assured that neither this nor any other pledge given them when I was asking their suffrages, shall be violated. That the people have an indisputable and inherent right to instruct their public servants, and to mould and fashion their institutions to suit themselves, no one believing in a republican form of Government will for a moment pretend to deny, and I believe the correlative obligation that those holding office are bound to obey is equally true. These instructions were conveyed to me in the best possible mode—through the ballot box.

Viewing this question without prejudice, no man can doubt that our citizens are earnestly opposed to the granting to corporations any unlimited powers which may be converted into monopolies, and which cannot be held subservient to the Legislature and to the true interests of the State. A solicitous regard, therefore, for truth and justice has impelled me to the course I have taken upon the subject, and with the full assurance that I have done my duty, I herewith return the bill without my signature. JOHN W. GEARY.

The Bill Passed.

The bill authorizing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to increase its capital stock, borrow money, &c., which Gov. Geary vetoed was passed over his head in the Senate by the following vote:

Burnett, Connell, Donovan, Fisher, Glatz, Haines, Jackson, James, Landon, McCandless, McConaughy, Randall, Ridgway, Royer, Schall, Searight, Stutzman, Taylor, Wells, Worthington—YEAS 20.

Bigham, Billingfelt, Brown, (Lawrence,) Brown, (Mercer,) Davis, Graham, Lowry, White, Hall, (Speaker.) —NAYS 9.

Absent and not voting, Shoemaker, Coles, Coleman, Wallace—4.

March 22.—The bill allowing the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to increase indefinitely, and without consulting the stockholders, the stock and bonded indebtedness of the Company, failed, entirely, the House not passing it over the Governor's veto.

A new bill was then introduced, limiting the enlargement of stock to fifteen millions of dollars, and requiring that the consent and direction of the stockholders be first given before any new stock whatever shall be issued.—The bill was made to conform in all respects to the principles laid down in the Governor's veto.

The new bill passed both Houses, received the signature of the Governor, and is a law.

FROM WASHINGTON.

March 22.—Senator Wilson's concurrent resolution providing that if Jeff. Davis cannot be tried at once, that he be released from confinement, introduced to-day in the Senate, meets with some favor in both houses, but can hardly be passed in its present shape. A substitute to release him on bail, it is believed, will be readily adopted.

March 23.—The President's veto message of the Supplementary Reconstruction bill was read in the House immediately on its being received. The President objects generally to the provisions of the bill, and especially to those relating to registry, no person being permitted to vote whose name is not recorded. He says, as the preliminaries to holding conventions are under martial law and conducted by the commanding officers, and as there is no appeal from the registry, those in control of it may so act as to prevent the election of such delegates as may faithfully represent the wishes and sentiments of the State in Convention, to be called to frame new Constitutions. No consideration could induce him to give his approval to such an election law. He speaks of the reconstruction bill and this supplementary one, as establishing under martial law military coercion, and as making political disfranchisement. He then refers to the remarks of Daniel Webster against millitary governments founded on force, and mock elections and takes occasion to reiterate his views heretofore expressed in relation to the restoration of the Union, expressing the hope that eventually all the States will be admitted to enjoy the rights under the Constitution.

Outrages in Schuylkill County.

HARRISBURG, March 22.—Private advices from Schuylkill county, Pennsylvania, represent that the coal miners there are committing the most serious outrages. The ruffians (mainly Irishmen and known as the "Molly Maguires") are banded together in a secret organization for the purpose of controlling the mines, and resort to murder. It is impossible to punish them, as, when arrested and tried, the juries are packed with confreres and they escape. On Friday last Mr. Littlehales, a superintendent, was murdered with the hope of securing some money which he was supposed to have, but he had very little at the time.—Threats are made against all the superintendents, and all live momentarily in fear of violence. Governor Geary has been applied to for protection.

A new License Law.

The following bill, regulating the granting of licenses, has passed both houses finally, and will become the law on which future licenses will have to be granted. It is important that all application for license at the April session shall at once comply with the law:

A FURTHER SUPPLEMENT to an act further to regulate the granting of licenses to hotels and eating houses, approved March thirty-first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That when an application is made to any court of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, for licenses to sell intoxicating drinks, it shall be lawful for said court to hear petitions, in addition to that of the applicant, in favor of, and remonstrances against the application for such license, and in all cases to refuse the same whenever, in the opinion of said court, having due regard to the number and character of the petitioners for and against such application, such license is not necessary for the accommodation of the public and entertainment of strangers and travelers, and upon sufficient cause being shown, the said courts shall have power to revoke any license granted by them, and all laws inconsistent with this section are hereby repealed: Provided, That the sureties in the bond, required of the applicant for license, shall be signed to his petition.

SEC. 2. That applications for license to keep an eating house, beer house or restaurant, authorizing the sale of domestic wines, malt and brewed liquors, shall hereafter be made in the same manner and to the same authority as application for license to keep a hotel: Provided, That the regulation in relation to bed rooms and beds shall not apply to applicants for an eating house, beer house and restaurant license, and the tenth section of the act of twentieth April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, authorizing county treasurees to grant an eating house or retail brewery license, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. No license to keep an eating house, beer house or restaurant, under the provisions of the second section of this act, shall be granted in any incorporated city for a less sum than fifty dollars, nor elsewhere for a less sum than twenty dollars.

SEC. 4. If any person, after the passage of this act, shall sell spirituous and vinous liquors, domestic wines, malt or brewed liquors, without having obtained a license authorizing him so to do, such person shall, on conviction in the court of quarter sessions, be fined, for the first offense, in any sum not less than fifty, nor more than two hundred dollars; and for the second, or any subsequent offense, such person shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, and, in the discretion of the said court, be imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days: Provided That nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal the provisions of the act of Assembly passed March thirty first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty six, relating to sales by druggists and apothecaries.

SEC. 5. That the provisions of the first section of this act shall not apply to the city of Philadelphia or to the county of Allegheny: Provided, That nothing in this act shall authorize the granting of licenses to hotel and inn keepers, to vend vinous, spirituous and malt liquors, and to license beer houses, eating houses and restaurants in any locality where licensing of hotels, inns, beer houses, eating houses or restaurants is now prohibited by law.

PHOTOGRAPH

PATENT APPLIED FOR.

Hitherto there has been nothing introduced in way of a Marriage Certificate that has excited any interest or attraction; but the originators of the PHOTOGRAPH MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE claim that they have gotten up something that will be most heartily welcomed by all persons now married and all those who contemplate marriage.

Size and Plan of the Marriage Certificate.

The size of the Certificate is 10 by 14 inches. It contains a beautiful figure representing the union of two hearts. Above the figure is written in beautifully ornamented German Text the words "Photograph Marriage Certificate." There are three spaces in the figure: on the space in the center the Certificate proper is written. The words, "two hearts in one" form an arch over the Certificate proper, and immediately under the arch there is a beautiful figure representing the joining of hands, and where the centre space comes to a point there is a picture of two beautiful turtle doves. On the space to the left there is a place for the photograph of the gentleman and under it we have the words, "To the Husband," in ornamental text, under which we have selections of Scripture passages, addressed to the husband. On the left side of the engraving we have a place for the Photograph of the wife. Immediately under which we have the words, "To the Wife," in ornamental text, under which are appropriate passages of Scripture addressed to the wife. Over the space for the photograph of gentleman we have written in Old English characters, the following appropriate passage of Scripture: "It is not good that the man should be alone," and over the space for the photograph of the lady, we have the corresponding words: "I will make him an help meet for him." At the lower extension of the figure of the hearts, we have the hearts bound together or encircled in part by these words: "What therefore God hath joined together let no man put asunder." The Certificate is so constructed that card photographs of both bride and bridegroom can be inserted without the least possible difficulty. Indeed everything connected with it is so elegant, attractive and desirable that many single persons seeing the Certificate have been so much pleased with its appearance, that they purchased on sight one of these beautiful parlor ornaments.

A specimen copy of the Photograph Marriage Certificate will be carefully put up and sent by mail free, on receipt of the retail price, which is ONE DOLLAR.

Administrator's Notice, Estate of Dan'l Foreman, decd.
Public Sale of Furniture, D. H. Kooker, Huntingdon.
Something New (!) Glazier & Bro. "
Spring Goods, Eyre & Landell, Philadelphia.

Brief Items.

—The Assessors of Internal Revenue are busy dun, dun, dunning.

—The sun crossed the line on Wednesday last. The equinoctial storm immediately succeeded.

—Bessemer steel rails are now made at Johnstown. Heretofore we had to get them from mother England.

—The flitting season has commenced in earnest. Truly has it been said, "Life is full of changes."

—The Commissioners of Juniata co. wish it understood they did not offer $200 reward for the arrest of Matthews.

—Ex-Governor Porter of Harrisburg, is confined to his bed with severe illness.

—D. H. Kooker sold his house in West Huntingdon, to David Speck, for $1600. He will sell his furniture on Friday next.

—Horse-bills printed in the best style at the Globe office. For particulars see bills, or call at our office and examine specimens.

—McConnellstown is hereafter to have a regular Methodist preacher.—Rev. J. W. Leckie has been appointed for the present term.

—Lucky: The printers, at the Fakir of Vishnu's presentation. The 'devils' of the three offices in town each drew valuable prizes.

—Registers are to be appointed under the new Bankrupt Law. We have heard of none of the lawyers of this county, applying as yet. Singular.

—Henry and William Merritz of Henderson township started on a hunt on Saturday last and came back with eleven foxes.

—Eyre & Landell, 4th and Arch sts., Philadelphia, are now offering a large stock of Spring Dry Goods to purchasers. This is an old established and reliable dry goods house. Read adv.

—The store of Johnston & Watson is now open and in full blast. Ditto, the store of Glazier & Bro. Call and see the stock of goods and make your purchases.

—Five of the Ebensburg ministers intend leaving for some other locality. The papers do not assign the reason; therefore we are permitted to judge for ourselves.

—Now is the time to trim your trees; before the sap begins to run.—And now is the time to trim your boys, who are commencing the practice of running the streets after night.

—Ira McManigall, formerly of Lewistown, was instantly killed by the explosion of the dry house of the Miami Powder Mills, near Xenia, O., on the 12th inst.

—Johnstown is to have an Amoskeag Steam Fire Engine. The subscriptions for the machine and other apparatus have been raised. All this was the result of the late big fire in that place. Significant!

—Emigration to the West from this State still continues. We will be much mistaken if some of the emigrants do not find out that they had better staid at home. However, we don't wish them any bad luck.

—A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of this State, authorizing the Recorder of Deeds in the several counties to record the discharges of all honorably discharged officers and soldiers. This is a good bill and we hope it will be made a law.

—The Fakir of Vishnu, now here, is looked upon with not a little suspicion by the superstitious. We hear that some refuse to take a chance for his presents, thinking that by some mysterious power, they will follow him when he leaves. It is well enough that all don't think so, as we don't know where the hoop-skirts would go.

—The Cambria Freeman said that the ancient borough of Huntingdon is "looming up," and the Alleghanian wants to know whether the boro. has gone extensively into the weaving business. We advise our brothers to come and see our town and people, and perhaps they may have an opportunity for spinning another yarn.

—Wm. F. Shaw, formerly of this place, has been appointed Assistant Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives in Washington. David Over is now a jour printer in the Globe office at Washington. Davey has been a circulating editor, and we are sorry his fortunes are circulating him backward. Sich is life, however.

—We are indebted to Lieut. Thos. J. Gregg, of Co. L, U. S. Cavalry, for a copy of the Fort Laramie Scout, a spicy little sheet, published no doubt as a means of pastime and amusement. Success to the Scout, and the brave boys who print it. The paper reports that Lieut. Gregg had gone on a scout, and facetiously hopes that he may return with all his "har."

—The exhibition by the colored people of this place on the first three nights of last week was an entire success, far exceeding the most flattering anticipations. The entertainment was a varied one, the performers did well, (barring the abundance of gesture ill-placed,) and those who attended had a merry time generally. The exhibition realized over $62, which over-pays the eye-sore of a church debt, and will, no doubt, lessen the tax on the members' consciences and pocket-books.

"Truth is Mighty and Shall Prevail."

Have you been to see Johnston & Watson's immense stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Boots, Shoes, Hardware, Cedarware, Groceries, Oils, Fish, Carpets, Oil Cloths, &c., if not, go and see them and hear their prices, and be convinced that goods are from 30 to 50 per cent. cheaper there than elsewhere. Having purchased their goods since the great decline, they are prepared to sell their goods cheap, having a small profit, and are determined to do so. They have taken much care to have their stock for quantity, quality and styles unsurpassed in this section of the country. To be satisfied that the above is strictly true, call and examine their splendid stock, which embraces all the latest styles and novelties. If you hear their prices you will be sure to purchase, as their prices remind us of the good old times we used to have. Give them a call. Their store is one door east of the Washington Hotel.

Probable Child Murder.

The good people of Barree were startled on Friday morning last by the finding of a dead female infant under a log near the bridge which crosses the Juniata river at that place. A little school girl, whilst in search of "slate pencils" discovered the child, and a coroner's inquest was held. The body was examined by Dr. Harnish, who found the child had been born alive, whereupon the jury rendered a verdict of death from causes unknown to the jury. Several bruises on the child's head and a scratch on the shoulder, indicated that foul means had been resorted to, but there was no evidence to justify the jury in rendering such a verdict. We sincerely hope the fiend who could thus dispose of her offspring will be discovered and brought to answer for her crime.—Monitor.

More Ore Discoveries.

The mineral resources of the Juniata Valley seem to be inexhaustible, and are evidently but partially developed as yet. The Sugar Valley Iron and Ochre company, whose ochre works and lands are about six miles below Mount Union, near the Juniata river on the left, have, in addition to their extensive banks of ochre, come upon a large bank of brown hematite ore of a very good quality. The bank extends northwest and southeast, the regular vein being forty feet wide. There has been taken off one lift of ten feet, for about one hundred feet. The depth of the bank has not yet been ascertained. Not long ago a shaft was sunk to prove the vein, but no bottom could be found.

On the other end of the property there are three veins of fossil ore, which the company are not working at present; but by examination they seem to be inexhaustible, and a good article. —Mount Union Times.

Only for One Day.

Last Wednesday's Press brought the confirmation by the Senate of David Caldwell as Collector of Internal Revenue for this District. Until Thursday evening the most interested ones were provokingly puzzled to guess how the confirmation was brought about. Caldwell stock went up fifty per cent. Thursday's Press knocked several castles that had been built in the air, into pi—the confirmation was a mistake of the printer—it should have been "rejection by the Senate." So we go. Who's the next customer for empty honors?

Bogus Marriage Notices.

A few weeks ago we published a bogus marriage notice, and last week we received the compliments of the parties concerned for our pay. We are not the only ones that have been so maliciously dealt with—indeed, so prevalent was the custom in a neighboring county, that we believe a general law, attaching a severe penalty on the perpetrator has been passed by the Legislature. We have a rule which will prevent any further meanness of this sort, and those who endeavor to deceive us and give needless notoriety to the victims of their sport, may expect to meet with the severity which their impertinence demands. It will be a joke in which they will be the target.

The Great Tomato—Maupay's Superior.

A few packages of seed for sale at Lewis' Book Store. Price 25 cents.

River Dams vs. Fish.

We concur in the following suggestions of the Lewistown Gazette concerning the above topic. We cannot see why shad, salmon, &c., should not have free access to our waters; and we cannot tell, further, why Commissioner Worrall has not paid the dominions of the Juniata a visit. If he is too much engaged in other localities (although we know of but one,) then let us do something ourselves. The law is good enough, and all that is wanted is the men to put it in execution.

"The alteration in the Columbia Dam has already demonstrated that fish will again be caught in abundance in the Susquehanna and Juniata, if the obstructions now in those rivers are so altered as to permit their passage upwards. On Friday a week shad were taken at Fairview, a few miles below Harrisburg, and pike, rock, perch, and other migrating fish have already made their appearance in unusual numbers. We trust the present summer will not be suffered to pass by without an alteration in the dams on the Juniata, and if the Fish Commissioner will not at once see to their alteration, that the Grand Juries of Huntingdon, Mifflin, and Perry, will bring the question before their respective courts. No matter who made or who holds them. There are natural rights which no State nor company can destroy; and as our river is a natural highway, any obstruction which prevents fish from ascending is to our mind as much of an obstruction as a fence on a public road, and that any one can remove.

Corporeal Punishment.

The Law as to Corporeal Punishment—Parent and Child.

The Law as to Corporeal Punishment—Teacher and Pupil.

The Law as to Punishing for Misconduct Out of School.

The Law as to the Proper Instrument to be used in Punishing.

The laws of all the States on the above subjects are carefully compiled, arranged, and explained in chapters 4, 5, 6 and 7 of the new book entitled "The Lawyer in the School Room." This attractive, curious, and instructive little volume is for sale at Lewis' Book Store. Price $1,00.

Soldier's Discharge Found.

We have in our possession the Discharge from the U. S. Army, of Samuel Ruggles, of Huntingdon county, a private of Co. D. 110th Regiment, Pa. Volunteers. It was found upon the battle field, by A. J. Monks, and it is supposed that the person to whom it belonged was killed. Any of the friends of the above named soldier can have the above Discharge by applying to this office.—Brookville Republican.

Wanted,

Men from town and country, to call at the Franklin Hotel, Huntingdon, and see the Patent Atmospheric Butter-Maker. Churns every day from sweet milk in five minutes. Any one, by investing a few dollars, can make from $25 to $50 a day. It costs only 30 cents and sells for $3.

No Postmaster Yet.

Mr. G. Ash. Miller is still acting P. M., and Mr. Hildebrand assistant—both having been appointed by the President and rejected by the Senate. Hundreds of other important offices are in the same condition. We believe the people are as well satisfied with the gentlemen on duty here as they would be with any change that could be made. Let well enough alone.

Borough Statement.

We think that the statement of the receipts and expenditures of the borough should be published from time to time—say semi-annually. As local information it is very important, as the people desire an insight into the finances. We have no doubt we are flourishing, but yet many want to know "how is Old Huntingdon, and how does she stand?" Especially, with respect to that town hall.

☞ Subscribers changing their place of residence this spring will please notify us, giving the name of the post-office at which they have heretofore received the paper, as well as the one to which they wish it sent to. This is important, as we do not wish any mistakes to occur.

The Morrison House.

A report has gone abroad that this House has been closed. We have the pleasure to announce that the House has not been closed, and will not be. It will be kept open as usual in the best style by Mr. Morrison.

The "Mammoth" Moving.

Lt. Tom. Johnston, of the firm of Henry & Co., is now in the east purchasing new Goods for the Mammoth Store. Look out for a heavy assortment to please everybody.

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and speedily restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal.—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

cradle, even ... the thud of their flails is heard on ... barn floor, with the frosty morning of winter. They will not give up the old tools and the old familiar sounds, though the new are a hundred fold better.

These men, who cling to the old ways, are to be found in almost every township, and will probably die in their present faith and practice in husbandry. They learn nothing in a business that calls for more varied knowledge than almost any other handicraft or trade. Almost every one of the natural sciences is immediately useful in the tilling of the soil. The farmer should know something of geology and mineralogy, and chemistry, that he may understand the constituents of the soils that he cultivates, and remedy their defects. Botany and zoology will aid him in the selection of the crops and the stock that he can raise most profitably. If he carry on any large business, he must necessarily buy and sell continually, and needs to watch the markets as closely as the merchant. He needs to be as competent for business as the trader and speculator from the city, who comes into the country to buy his produce and forestall the markets. It is mainly for lack of this kind of intelligence that these middle men multiply so rapidly and make such enormous profits in forwarding the farmers' products to the city, where they find their market.—Almost everything goes through their hands, from the fat beeve of two thousand pounds, to the egg of two ounces—from the big tree of the forest, sawed into lumber, to the blade of grass packed in the hay bale. Middlemen are no doubt a necessary class, but they now take advantage of the ignorance of a large class of farmers and secure profits that the farmer would gain if he studied the markets more.—Farm and Fireside.

☞Most of our farmers are sadly deficient in labor. It is not unfrequent to find a two hundred acre farm worked with a force of one hired man and a boy, with the aid of the proprietor, and a little extra help in the haying season. As a consequence, very little is planted or sowed, and that is but half cared for; very little is raised, and the profits, if any, are very small. More than half of the means of the owner are locked up in land that does not yield him a cent of income. It might as well be in the bottom of the sea. A farmer who is competent to direct the labors of one man and make it pay, may just as well direct five or more. And we think it will be found that two men pay better than one, and five better than two. It looks and feels a good deal more like business, and more is accomplished. It is disheartening to any man to go into a ten acre cornfield and hoe all day alone.

☞A correspondent gives the following recipe for scratches on horses, which he has tried on many horses for several years, and never failed in an immediate cure: "Take a shovel full of hot ashes (wood ashes), and throw them under the fetlock and above the hoof, the part always first affected.—If the horse be badly off with them, raise the foot and pour them on, dropping the foot directly. In two hours the horse will move with ease to himself, however stiff he may have been. The disease is immediately cured by the application. The cracks in the skin require a few days to heal."—American Farmer.

☞Who should have a good garden if not the farmer? He has plenty of land, team, and as much manure as he can use. There is no class of people to whose families a garden is a greater convenience or more pressing necessity, than the farming class. Removed far from that access to a daily market which makes up for the want of a garden to town and city residents, the farmer's household must be without fresh vegetables and fruits unless they are home produced. Without a garden the winter diet is mainly bread, meat, and potatoes.

$100 ADDITIONAL BOUNTY!!

NEW BOUNTY LAW PASSED!

Attention, Discharged Soldiers!

The Act of Congress approved July 28, 1866, gives $100 additional bounty to all soldiers who enlisted for three years and were discharged by reason of expiration of service, or who were discharged for wounds received in battle and who have not received more than $100 bounty for such service. An additional bounty of $100 is also allowed to the nearest relative of soldiers who enlisted for a term of three years and who died or were killed in the service, to be paid in the following order: First, to the widow; second, to the children; third, to the father, and fourth, to the mother.

Soldiers' Widows.

By applying to W. H. Woods, of Huntingdon, Huntingdon county, Pa., you can have your pensions increased two dollars a month for each and every child you have, and when the widow has married or died, the children are entitled to the increase.

To all who have brought home the bodies of their friends who died or were killed in the service of the United States, there is a certain amount of compensation allowed you for the expenses incurred in bringing home the bodies of your friends, which you can obtain by making application to me.

Invalid Soldiers, Attention!

The act of Congress, approved June 6, 1866, gives additional pensions to the following class of persons:

Soldiers who have lost both eyes or both hands, $25 per month; who have lost both feet $20 per month; who have lost one hand or one foot, or totally disabled in the same, $15 per month.

Persons who have been deprived of their pensions in consequence of being in the civil service of the United States Government, can be restored to the pension roll by applying to me.

Fathers and mothers who were in whole or in part dependent upon their sons for support are entitled to a pension. Also brothers and sisters under sixteen years of age.

All discharged soldiers who did not receive transportation to their places of enlistment when discharged, are entitled to receive it; and also all who were held as prisoners of war, and did not receive commutation of rations when released or discharged, are entitled to it.

Officers who were in the service on the 3d of March, 1865, and were discharged after the 9th of April, 1865, by applying to me can receive three months extra pay.

Soldiers of 1812!

All soldiers, or soldiers' widows, of the war of 1812, who have served two months, or been wounded or disabled in such service, if in necessitous circumstances, are entitled to an annuity of $10.

Local Bounty.

All veteran soldiers who gave their credit to districts in the State of Pennsylvania, and who received no local bounty, are entitled to receive three hundred dollars.

All persons having any of the above mentioned claims, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, will please address me, giving full particulars, enclosing a stamp for return postage, and they will receive a prompt reply.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent

Duplex Elliptic

or Double Spring,

SKIRT.

The wonderful Flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The hoops are covered with cauble and twisted thread and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the standard skirt of the fashionable world.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION—To guard against imposition be particular to notice that skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs' upon the waist band—none others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other spring.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere.

Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent.

PROF. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE;

☞Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞Toothache in one minute.
☞Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞Rheumatism in one day,
☞Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞Fever and Ague in one day.
☞Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all these complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiacy. If you have an ache or pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, appliable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use.
